The Junior High Reading Club Activities promoting “Read

For The Fun Of It @ Your Library “ during this school year earned our Camas School Library nine new books from the Idaho Commission for Libraries. The titles are: Blood Red Road by Moira Young, The Memory Book by Lara Avery, The Female of the Species by Mindy McGinnis, Ashes by Laurie Halse Anderson, Make: The Best of Volume 2—65 Projects & Skill Builders by Maker Media, Tilt by Ellen Hopkins, The Lie Tree by Frances Hardinge, The Fever Code by James Dashner, and The Hammer of Thor by Rick Riordan.

In October the Junior High Reading Club sponsored Teen Read Week and the theme this year was “Read For The Fun Of It @ Your Library”. We chose Hobbies as our overall TRW Theme at Camas School District this year.

Under the direction of Mrs. Kristie Olsen the Camas Junior High Students worked with the SPLAT Idea Lab from The Idaho Commission for Libraries and they helped show the elementary students how to use the lab.

Children’s Book Week Celebration sponsored by the Junior High Reading Club was a huge success with many wonderful hobbies and exhibits displayed on November 17, 2016 in the Camas HS Gym.

The Club also promotes reading with new book displays each month.

Share the Good Through Acts of Kindness

We encourage academic, artistic and athletic achievement, but what would happen if we also taught our students to always strive to be kinder? Global Playground is asking for students, teachers, and communities across the world to band together and #practicekindness in big and small ways this October, November and December.

Camas Junior High Reading Club members made bracelets for all Camas Elementary Students in November. The club also participated in the Camas PTO Holiday Food Drive and gave books, stuffed animals, food and a $50.00 Gift Certificate to Camas Creek Country Store.
